Not so many years ago, the superb art created in Raglan Whaingaroa was largely invisible. Our beautiful town surrounded by the inspiring rugged landscape provides a perfect stimulus for artists. But apart from the occasional exhibition in the Raglan Town Hall it was largely hidden away in private studios. The opening of the Community Gallery at the Old School Arts Centre, now complemented by the other galleries, has allowed more art to be on display for visitors. But still a vast body of work is not available.

Two years ago the Raglan Community Arts Council published a slender Art Trail brochure to put some of the many artist studios on the map. This first guide was enthusiastically embraced by visitors to Raglan. It has provided the foundation for this much more ambitious Raglan Art Trail booklet supplemented by an Open Studio weekend. Local performing arts groups will also feature during the Open Studio weekend. I am confident that this combination will attract even more visitors to our town to enjoy and appreciate all of our arts. A big thank you to Amanda and her Art Trail team for bringing this project to fruition.

Chairperson
Raglan Community Arts Council

Old School Arts Centre

The Raglan Community Arts Council welcomes you to the Raglan Art Trail Guide 2011.

This guide is also the official brochure for the Open Studio Weekend 29th, 30th, 31st January 2011. The studio opening hours for this weekend are 10am to 2pm. We hope you enjoy visiting the many studios and meeting artists.

At all other times of the year please contact the artist regarding opening hours. There are a few artists who were not able to participate in the Open Studio Weekend, they are marked with an asterix.

This Art Trail Guide is current at the time of publishing. For further details and updates on events in Raglan during Auckland Anniversary weekend 2011, please visit www.raglanartscentre.co.nz

Be sure to keep an eye out for the turquoise and pink flags and A4 posters placed outside every participating studio/gallery. Please enjoy!
